

New fund established for Kyron Horman search

Proceeds will offset search costs, help other causes for missing and exploited children

The Multnomah County Sheriff's Office announced today the creation of a new fund to offset the mounting expenses of the ongoing search for the missing 7-year-old Skyline Elementary student.

Anyone with information regarding Kyron Horman whereabouts is asked to call the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office tip line 503 261-2847, or to dial 911 with emergency information.

Donations to the fund may be made at any Bank of America branch under the name "Kyron Horman Fund." This fund has been officially established by the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office; donors choosing to make donations to separate funds do so at their own risk.

Law enforcement and search personnel have come to the Portland area from every county in Oregon, with others joining from Washington state and Virginia. Nearly all of the searchers are volunteers or employees of counties or other government agencies, which are currently bearing the cost of the effort.

A separate effort is underway seeking donations of food and other goods for searchers. More info is available at Chair Jeff Cogen's website:

Donations to governmental and tax exempt agencies are generally tax deductible, but donors are advised to consult with their tax advisors prior to claiming deductions for such donations.
